About the AMHS Strength & Conditioning Program

The AMHS Sports Performance Facility is a 1,500-square-foot room filled with some of the best strength and conditioning equipment in the state of Washington. The Rogue branded room holds 10 Power Racks (7 fully customized Power Racks, 3 adjustable Half Racks), age-appropriate and various barbells, over 10,000lbs of free weights, dumbbells, kettlebells, medicine balls, bands, 5 sets of plyometric boxes, and speed and agility training equipment. Technology is also highly used in the room to track, measure, and improve power, strength, and speed. It also includes a turf area just a step away from the indoor training facility. Sports Performance Training and Injury Rehabilitation are performed in the room with Sports Medicine Staff. The best part: all of the walls are covered with faces of past and present Wildcats to create an amazing training environment for all!
